ARC&LINE

BUKKEHAVE is a Danish jewellery brand that has been designing original and brave contemporary pieces of jewellery since 2011. The company's style is based on goldsmith Christine Bukkehave's unique and explicitly Scandinavian sense of aesthetics and BUKKEHAVE's designs are often inspired by organic and abstract forms found in nature. By letting these natural forms collide head on with strict and minimalistic design elements, Christine Bukkehave achieves a style that is both full of contrast and opposing themes. Just like modern life itself.

To follow up on this theme, BUKKEHAVE has always worked with combining classic and alternative materials. Christine Bukkehave has great passion and respect for more standardized metals like gold and silver but she is not afraid to have them clash with more exotic materials and various gems.

BUKKEHAVE incorporates these clashes between the safe and the untested, the raw and the frail, between the city and the countryside, between culture and nature in all of our product and it is our artistic ambition to never rest on any laurels and instead keep challenging the boundaries of this ancient and truly magnificent craft.

Every BUKKEHAVE design is made by hand and has been carefully chosen with great emphasis on originality, quality and good craftsmanship.

Arc&Line: Giving new life and shine to past collections by adding a touch of luxury. BUKKEHAVE's signature pieces of modern, minimalist and Scandinavian jewellery now comes with a touch of gold and diamonds. This collection speaks to the elegant and sophisticated woman looking for classic jewellery with a geometrical edge.
